

Who We Are

The Cummings Foundation for Behavioral Health (CFBH) is a nonprofit philanthropic organization that pursues innovative opportunities to advance professional psychology and behavioral healthcare in ways that positively impact society.

The organization was founded by Dr. Nicholas and Dorothy Cummings in 1976 as the Foundation for Behavioral Health. In 2003, the organization was reorganized as the Cummings Foundation for Behavioral Health, an independent 501(c)(3) private operating foundation.

Today, we are generously funded by The Nicholas & Dorothy Cummings Foundation and other supporters.

Our work to advance behavioral healthcare is rooted in a passion for psychological science. We partner with organizations that provide empirically tested and culturally competent services to deliver programs that work.

Integrity and Accountability

As we achieve our mission, we maintain honesty and integrity with our community, donors, board, staff, volunteers, collaborators, and the government.

“Scientific evidence and professional integrity should govern psychological practice.”

~Dr. Nicholas Cummings (1924-2020)
